REVOLUTION IN TEXAS.

IT will be remembered, that, in the beginning of her revolution, in 1836, Texas offered large bounties in land to volunteers to serve in her armies.

We can now offer, to the settlers, and holders of these, who thus served, the recovery of all the lands promised by the Government of Texas. We are also prepared to prosecute all Texas land claims regardless of date or date settler, whether Spanish, Mexican, or American Bounty, Scour, or Heavens. Having completed access to the Master rolls, Maps, Records, and other documents in the Public Offices at Austin city, we enjoy superior advantages for investigations of all kinds in regard to claims.

We will give particular attention to the secure of land illegally sold, for taxes or otherwise, and to estates which have suffered from inaction or mismanagement of agents or administrators.

To persons having LAND CERTIFICATES FOR LE-CATION, we can offer particular inducements.
Our thorough and intimate knowledge of the various lands and surveys of the state, obtained from personal inspection, insures the most favorable locations, and perfect titles.

LONG EXERCISE, and close attention to the LAND SYSTEM and an accurate knowledge of the different classes of title, together with the large amount of land registered in our office for sale, enables us to furnish prompt and reliable information, and assistance to persons desiring good homes, and to afford superior advantages to those wishing to make safe and PROFITABLE INVESTMENTS.

We are offering FOR SALE LINES in every part of the state—improved and unimproved, of every variety, and in tracts to suit purchasers; also town and city lots—in short every kind of real estate on the most favorable terms.

To reasons having land in Texas for sale, we would say, that we keep books, in which are registered descriptions [furnished by the owners, or obtained by personal inspection] and full exhibits of title &c, of all tracts to be sold, thus furnishing a cheap and effective mode of advertisement. If desired, we will examine land in any part of the state, ascertain its value, and report faithfully. Registering for one dollar.

We invite the attention of MASCANTINE nous, and individuals to our offices as fornishing a speedy and effective mode of collecting.

By activity, energy, and fidelity to the inters of our employers we hope to merit the confidence of the business Public.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE,
KENTUCKY.

THIS Institution occupies a high rank among Western Colleges. Its Library, Cabinet, Museum, and apparatus are unsurpassed. Its literary course is the same as that of Yale College, while its scientific course embraces all the best portions of the course at West Point.

For young men designed for practical business there is a course of three years in which a thorough knowledge is imparted in agricultural Chemistry, Physiology, Zoology, Practical Engineering, Principles of Commerce, and Book Keeping. In this practical feature the College is believed to be unequalled. Its high aim is to furnish American scholars, and American business men. The rapidly increasing number of Students to attendance is proof of its high rank and efficiency.

This seat of learning is no mere experiment, whose permanence is doubtful, and whose diploma is therefore of uncertain value. It is in a position to exercise and maintain a wholesome discipline without the fear of extinguis-hment; and to require of its students every thing scholarly and manly in their deportment.
It has boarding arrangements adapted to all classes of students; and so adjusted as to avoid the dangers inseparable from the practice of crowding 150 or 200 young men into one building. Students for the ministry can board for about $40 per College year.

Others of known good moral habits, for about $65 or 70; while those who may prefer boarding in private families can do so at from $80 to 100. No student is allowed to board in any family but such as the Faculty shall approve; and a strict but kind supervision is exercised by the faculty over every student where-ever he may board.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions. The first commences on the third Monday in September; the second, on the first Monday in February.

COMMENCEMENT DAY

Occurs on the last Thursday in June. Tuition $20 per session.

The annual catalogue may be had by application to the President, Rev. D. R. Campbell L. D. S. F. GANO,

DR. HOOFLAND'S CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTERS.

PREPARED BY

DR. C. M. JACKSON,

No. 120 Arch street, Philadelphia.

Their power over the above diseases is not excelled, if equalled, by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures attest, in many cases after skillful physicians had failed.

These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. Possessing great virtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching powers in weakness and afflictions of the digesta-tive organs, they are, natural, safe, certain and pleasant.

READ AND BE CONVINCED.

H. W. CHANEY, Millersburg, Ky., Oct. 16, 1852, said: "Having sold your Bitters some time, I find it has given satisfaction in every instance that has come under my notice."

NELSON & EDWARDS, Saltis, Ky., June 2d, 1851, said: "We rejoice to inform you that this justly celebrated medicine has fully maintained the exalted reputation which has been given it, and having tested its virtues we unhesitatingly say it amply deserves it."

J. T. & J. W. HERRY, Uniontown, Ky.,

July 21, 1852, said: "We have heard of many cases in which the use of Dr. Hooft's German Bitter, and believe it to be a valuable medicine."

"We have succeeded in introducing your Hooft's

Bitter, physicians and others purchase them by the half dozen and dozen."

DR. F. FALLO & BRO., Knoxville, Tenn.,

April 9, 1851, said: "Your Bitters are now selling very fast, and every person that has had it, so far as we have been able to learn,

has been satisfied."

These Bitters are ABSOLUTELY VEGETABLE, they invigorate and strengthen the system, never prostrate it, and can be used for infants as well as adults.

Mr. FRENCH.

DEAR SIR.—

Having enjoyed the privilege and pleasure of standing the examination of the pupils of the above named institution of learning, during the last week of June inst., I wrote out in full, a notice of the excellence that marked the various performances of the young ladies composing the said school, giving the names, residences and thunes of those who read, on that occasion, their own beautiful, classic, and (for young ladies) unsurpassed compositions. That no ice I sent to Dr. McMurtry for publication in the Nashville Christian Advocate, which, however, has not appeared in that paper. The good Dr. had, I suppose, what he deemed good reasons for not permitting it to appear in the journal he controls.

That notice may have been too long; yet one, at least, occupying two or three columns, making favorable mention of some other school, has been admitted into the Advocate.

That notice may have seemed too special and minute; yet notice equally so, in reference to other schools, have found a place in his paper.

That notice may have been regarded as being too highly colored; yet, in all its shades and tints is possessed the peculiar property of having been marked by truth.

That notice may have been buried under a pile of communications which the Dr. deemed more worthy of his columns; yet if those that have since appeared, in the Advocate, in regard to schools, are those which crowded mine out, I can only say the Dr. and I do not always agree in point of taste.

I regret the non-appearance of my communication on account of having voluntarily made promises, to several young ladies, after the examination, to notice invariably, their unsurpassed productions and I, also, regret it on account of the disappointment felt by others, who had heard me express myself as being highly pleased, yet delighted, at the amount and variety of knowledge manifested by the young ladies, during the examination, marked, as it was, at every step, by an exceedingly satisfactory evidence of cure and profound incitation on the part of their teachers.

Sir, please be so kind as to publish this explanatory letter, in the Herald, in order that I may stand fairly and properly before those to whom I promised what they have not yet had the privilege of reading—e-mail a very honorable notice, (so far as language is concerned,) of their highly meritorious performances.

The above institution commenced its 50th or 60th session on Monday, the 4th instant, with a larger number of pupils than ever attended it the first week of any of its previous sessions. Many improvements have been made, during vacation, in the buildings of the institution. They will be more convenient than ever before.

Much regard has been had to comfort both for warm and cold weather.

The amiable and excellent Mrs. Julia A. Tovis is still Principal; Mrs. Allen, an experienced teacher, for years connected with the institution, and Miss Sarah Hinman, a graduate of Maine Wesleyan Seminary, who comes well and highly recommended are the principal assistants in the Academic department.

Miss Salie Bayles has charge of the Junior classes; and her previous unexceptionable character as a teacher in a guarantee for the future.

Mrs. Arabella Martin, a sister to Mrs. Tovis will take charge of pupils in Drawing, of whom it may be said she nobly contends, as an instructor, for the laurels worn by her most widely known sister.

B. P. Tovis is teacher of Mathematics.

He is both a gentleman and scholar, possessing all the suavity in modo of the former blended with all the devotion to science that makes him a noble son of a worthy mother.

Professor John Candy is principal teacher of Music, assisted by Miss Salie Smith of Vicksburg, Mississippi, a graduate of Science Hill.

Mr. Candy, it is well known, stands in the first class in his profession, while Miss. Smith has won the esteem, if not the love of all her former class-mates.

And without intending to depreciate, even by implication, any one of the many truly valuable schools, now in Kentucky, engaged in impressing the minds and hearts of our daughters, I wish to be permitted to say, that in my opinion, no school for the education of young ladies, in the Union, has higher claim upon an intelligent country than has Science Hill Academy.

Imported Cattle for Kentucky.

We visited the Antarctic, at the foot of Wall street, yesterday, to look at the imported cattle mentioned in Tuesday's Tribune. Owing to the difficulty of getting a berth at our crowded wharves, the ship was not able to discharge the stock yesterday—that will be done to day, and they will be taken directly over to Bergen, to go forward to their new home in the West, by the Erie road this evening. The lot consists of the following animals, owned by the Kentucky Stock Importing Company, formed by about a dozen gentleman of Fayette, Scott, and Bourbon counties: Five bulls, two of them three years old, three of them one year old, and one of them costing 200 guineas. Six cows and one calf; one of the cows nearly ready to drop another. Eight heifers, one and two years old; one of the yearling heifers cost $500, and is remarkable for her size and beauty. She is nearly all red. Fifty-four Cotswold sheep; some of the bucks being unusually large. Eighteen swine, one pair of which is large enough to suit the breeders of muttons in Kentucky. One Cleveland bay stallion that cost 1,100, and which is very fine horse of that excellent breed. Another lot, belonging to Col. Wm. Alexander, of Woodford county, consists of three bulls, one of them three years old, and two one year; four cows; eight heifers.

The horned cattle are all of the short-horned Durham variety, and some of them are of superior quality, and the whole stock have made the voyage in the finest condition we have ever seen arrive. The most of them look as lively as though they had been in stables on shore. The ship is broad on the beam, and the cattle arranged in stables under the pump-deck, with their heads to a broad alley in the centre, and have been evidently well fed and cared for by the person in charge.

The horse has a large stall on deck midships, and the sheep occupy plenty of room between decks forward.

Mr. James Bagg, of Scott county, who went out as agent of the company, with 20,000 to make the purchase, came back by the Antarctic, accompanied by the Englishman by the name of Harris, with a number of feeders to look after the stock, and it is probably owing to that we find them in such excellent condition.

Mr. Hagg also brought over a Welch pony and a cage of ferrets. The only loss was three sheep. The feed was plenty of hay, with oil-cake, hay-stuff, and some grain. Several of the bulls and cows are better beef than we generally find at Bull's Head. Several of them were prize animals at the shows in their own counties. The horse is the best that could be selected in the north of England.

The sheep number 8 rams and 40 ewes. Some of them cost 40 guineas each. The swine are of the improved Yorkshire and Liverpool breed. This is Mr. Alexander's sixteenth importation, consequently he has done much to improve the stock of Kentucky.

The English papers speak of this lot of cattle as one of the best that has been shipped, and no expense has been spared in the purchase or provisions for the voyage. We hope they will reach home equally safe, and that the importers will be rewarded in money and just contributions for their enterprise.—N. Y. Tribune.

From the New York Tribune.

PRACTICALLY TO CRIMES.—The Post and Express have touched upon the objections brought against the journals for the publications of the particulars of crimes and outrages. We have so often heard the press attacked in a pseudo moralizing strain, because of the publicity it gives such events, that it is worth while to say a word on this subject.

The business of a newspaper is to record the news—the good, the bad and the indifferent.—"Flappy," says Moliere, is the nation whose history is full, and this remark is certainly true so far as that times of war, tumult, pestilence, and public calamity generally infinitely of exciting details, of heroic individuals than, of the former blended with all that devotion to science that makes him a noble son of a worthy mother.

Professor John Candy is principal teacher of Music, assisted by Miss Salie Smith of Vicksburg, Mississippi, a graduate of Science Hill.

Mr. Candy, it is well known, stands in the first class in his profession, while Miss. Smith has won the esteem, if not the love of all her former class-mates. And without intending to depreciate, even by implication, any one of the many truly valuable schools, now in Kentucky, engaged in impressing the minds and hearts of our daughters, I wish to be permitted to say, that in my opinion, no school for the education of young ladies, in the Union, has higher claim upon an intelligent country than has Science Hill Academy.

H. N. CARTER.

We visited the Antarctic, at the foot of Wall street, yesterday, to look at the imported cattle mentioned in Tuesday's Tribune. Owing to the difficulty of getting a berth at our crowded wharves, the ship was not able to discharge the stock yesterday—that will be done to day, and they will be taken directly over to Bergen, to go forward to their new home in the West, by the Erie road this evening. The lot consists of the following animals, owned by the Kentucky Stock Importing Company, formed by about a dozen gentleman of Fayette, Scott, and Bourbon counties: Five bulls, two of them three years old, three of them one year old, and one of them costing 200 guineas. She is nearly all red. Fifty-four Cotswold sheep; some of the bucks being unusually large. Eighteen swine, one pair of which is large elements in them—not excepting Goldsmith's virtuous idyl, the Vicar of Wakefield. It is, therefore, rather late in the historical day to denounce journals for doing what every author out of the exact sciences does, and what is indispensable to his success.

OUTRAGEOUS AFFAIR.—A shooting affair took place on the Fair Grounds near this city on Thursday last, during the exhibition, between George H. Thomas, of Mt. Sterling, and Thomas Buford, of Woodford. The weapons were Colts' Revolvers. The parties, we understand, had a fight on the grounds early in the day, which ended in the exchange of a few blows, and a separation by the bystanders. They then armed themselves, and met again between 1 and 2 o'clock, when the firing commenced and continued until each party had discharged the contents of a six-barrel pistol. They were then about so close with bowie knives, but were restrained by the crowd. The two received a ball in his thigh, causing a slight wound; Buford escaped unhurt.

Mr. Thomas Ferguson, of this county, it is said, attempted to interfere in the affair, and was knocked down by Capt. Abram Buford; a brother of Thomas Buford, and received a severe cut in the hand with a bowie knife in the hands of Thomas Buford, who had managed to escape from the persons who had seized him.

But this was not all of this shameful occurrence. Two negroes on the ground were shot by the belligerents—one a negro girl belonging to Dr. S. M. Letcher who received a severe wound in her mouth, which is now finally—the other a negro boy belonging to Henry Bell Esq., who was shot in the arm, producing fortunately only a slight wound. The only writer of distinction, however, is that each of the ten or a dozen shots had not taken effect upon some of the numerous persons, urban and females, and female children and who were congregated in the immediate vicinity.

We have but remark or two to make in regard to this affair. Those who were concerned in it have but a faint conception of the deep seating of indignation of which the occurrence inspired in that assembly. That such a place and such a time should be chosen to settle private quarrels, with deadly weapons, in the presence of timid women, to say nothing of the danger to those around, was well fitted to arouse a feeling which the honor of our population was not carried into execution. The Fair Grounds are dedicated to the exhibition of peaceful industry. Our city is full of intelligent strangers. We have perhaps not a very enviable reputation in some particulars now. Will this add to it? We do not know that we have ever in the course of our long editorial career, been called on to record any transaction with feelings of deeper regret and humiliation.

We stop not to ask who was right or who was wrong. That is the business of the law. We look at it simply as a discussion of an occasion second, and perhaps second only, to the desecration of the church of God, when used and devoted to the purposes of falsehood and perfidious thoughts.

Since the above was in type, we understand that the affair will undergo an investigation before the Hon. R. F. Graves, Presiding Judge of the County Court, this morning at 10 o'clock.—Observer.

OUTRAGEOUS SHOOTING AND BOWIE KNIFE AFFAIR AT LEXINGTON, KY.—A WOMAN AND TWO MEN WOUNDED.—We learn from gentlemen from Lexington, last evening, that a most disgraceful and bloody affray occurred at the Fair Ground, in the vicinity of this city yesterday, in which a negro woman, the property of Dr. Letcher, was shot in the mouth. Mr. Thomas Ferguson was literally scalped with a bowie-knife in the hands of Mr. Chas. Buford, and George H. Thomas, of Mount Sterling, was shot in the thigh by Chas. Buford, of Woodford.

The origin and particulars of this affair, as we are informed, are as follows: Messrs. G. H. Thomas and Chas. Buford had a regular fist fight in the morning in which Thomas was worsted. He proceeded to town and returned a little after 12 o'clock, to the fair ground, in the vicinity of the ladies' stand, surrounded by five hundred people, where he again encountered his opponent, Buford, and drawing a revolver fired four or six shots, one informant thinks six, but the telegraph report says four, which were returned by Buford with another revolver. In the mouth, the negro girl was shot in the mouth, the ball passing out at the neck, inflicting a very dangerous wound, and Thomas was shot in the thigh. A second pistol was handed to Thomas, by Chas. Ferguson, when Chas. Buford drew a bowie-knife and fell upon Ferguson, inflicting a terrible gash on his head, and it was thought his eye was cut out.

The shot were fired indiscriminately into the crowd, chiefly women, and it was a misfortune that no one else was hit. Mr. J. Crittenden and Governor Leitcher were in close proximity to the belligerents, and upon hearing the bullets whistling about their ears concluded the parties were in earnest, and made a hasty retreat from the scene of action. The ladies were terribly alarmed at this outrage perpetrated in their midst, and the utmost consternation prevailed among them for some time. Such scenes of violence are of common occurrence in Kentucky, and it is to be hoped the authorities of Lexington, will make an example of the guilty parties.—Courier.

THE CROPS AND THE DROUGHT.—It seems to us that there is a good deal of unnecessary alarm and talk upon the subject of short crops, and the prospect of a famine in our country. It is true that in a portion of the United States, from about the middle of Indiana, Ohio and Illinois, to the middle of Tennessee, the corn crop will fall short of the general average, but we think not so much so, as the general impression would imply. North and South of these lines, as far as we can glean from the papers published in those regions, there will be more than an average crop. In Iowa and Wisconsin, and northern Ohio and Indiana and Illinois the crop is finer than has been for years. The same is true in regard to Texas and the Southern states which raise corn as a staple. Even here, in Kentucky, as the panic among our farmers would indicate. In the mountain districts, South and North, we have cheering news, for we have the best authority, that in many places in those districts, they have not known drought and the crops give finer produce than they have for years. Even in our own county (Franklin) we know of regions that have not suffered, and where the yield will be greater than it has been for years back.

In addition to this, there is quite a large surplus on hand from the last year's produce, in all parts of the Union, where a surplus has usually been raised.

The early crops, wheat, oats, &c., have yielded unusually abundant throughout the entire Union, and we see no reason for the present high price of flour, and other articles of provision. Neither can we see any reason why (as is the case at present here) that fattened hogs should command from four to four and a half dollars per hundred, while stock hogs are offered freely at one dollar, gross. In this region meat is plenty; and with the corn that has been raised, as many hogs can be fattened as heretofore. The knowing ones of this county are accordingly purchasing all the stock hogs that they can with the absolute certainty, of realizing a fine per centum on the investment.—Yeoman.

PUTNAM, FOR SEPTEMBER.

Many of our readers, will have carefully noticed the article in Putnam's Magazine for September, headed "Our Parties and Politics." Who or what the writer is we know no means of knowing, further than that he is a man of ability, well versed in our political history.—A Free soldier, and perhaps, a Demeurist.—We give some extracts from his article:

"It is no offence to the Whigs, we trust, for indeed it is only repeating the frequent avowals of their own leading exponents to say, that no party they are pretty much infact. Whatever uses their organization may have subserved in the course of our political history, and nobody will deny them some merits, however splendid the talent by which their long but losing struggle has been illustrated, from the day in which their policy was inaugurated by Hamilton, until that in which its funeral discourse was uttered in 'a fine rich brogue,' by General Scott, it has never succeeded in becoming, for more than a year or two at a time, a predominant party. It has been shie, on occasions, to carry its principles into effect, but not the satisfaction of a permanent majority. Its distinguished measures have been, on the other hand, repeatedly and unequivocally condemned. Not the most sanguine adherent can now hope to see them revived. The question of a National Bank, of a protective Tariff, of Internal Improvements, of the Distribution of the Public Lands, are adjudicated questions; no court isis wherein to bring an appeal; and the wisest living for those who have been worsted in the controversy, is to do what the most of them have done—solmit. Their once great and accomplished leaders sleep in honorable graves, no exigencies of state will ever again awaken the solemn eloquence of Webster, nor the clarion voice of Clay ever again summon his lieges to the battle. The masters are dead and their followers are dispersed or at least, or should they rally again, it can only be, under other names and for deeper and far deeper and nobler objects. A remnant of the camp of former times, a forlorn hope with Millard Fillmore as the drum major, may strive to keep the old organism alive; but it is clear, in the present aspect of affairs, that it cannot possess more than a semi-vitality, useless for good and painful to be held."

Now we presume the Democrats will all agree to this, whether all the Whigs will or not. Certainly, the question above specified,—the old party issues, are all adjudicated, and we presume finally. Such we suppose is the opinion of all enlightened Whigs.

Our author divides the Democratic party into two sections, to the first of which, we suppose him to belong:

"The Democrats of the purer stamp, the real Democrats as we have called them, are like the Whigs, in a state of comparative dissolution; or rather, they are scattered through their party at large, and elsewhere, as leaven through meal, without having an effective control over it, or perhaps connection. They may be described as Democrats who still abide by the original principles of Democracy, who represent the popular instinct, clinging to living ideas of justice, and equal rights and progress, and who refuse to follow in a pell-mell abandonment of themselves to the seductions of the slaveholders. They are not few in number, as we are inclined to think, either at the north or the south, comprising, as we trust, a majority of the young men of the nation, yet unrepresented by official councils, as well as opposing the sympathies of many among parties which go by another name; but, having no separate organization any where, they are easily overborne by the practised managers of the old organization, who wield the machinery of party action, and consequently power. In their external or immobile pretensions they are not formidable, but in the might of their sentiments they have already captured the future. A steady continuance in integrity, a deaf turned to the charms of the adlers of office, an eagerness to consult, amid all the shifting of policy, the fresh impulses of the honest young heart of the nation, will, ere long, gather about them the intellect, the virtue, and the popular instinct of right, which are the redeeming elements of states."—Putnam's Magazine.

THE MAN WHO DID NOT KNOW HIS FARM WAS ANESTHETIZED.—The Ogdensburg Sentinel tells a story of a subscriber who lately stopped his paper, because it contained too many advertisements, and shortly after had his farm advertised and sold for non-payment of taxes, before he knew it. He succeeded in redeeming his property, at a considerable cost, and then concluded to renew his subscription to the Sentinel, which was the only paper that had the news.

TEXAS REAL ESTATE BROKERAGE Housing and Agency

Fashion

"Show me a contented slave, and I will show you a degraded man! " So says Burke, that distinguished man whose mind glowed with warmth, and energy, knew no withering, no enslavement even when on the verge of his existence—it biographers and historians are to be believed, which sad to say is not always the case!

Granting the truth of Burke's remark, we know of no slaves so utterly degraded, as those in common parlance styled "Slaves of Fashion"—These, guided by the appearance, and not the reality of things, commanded as it were, by the strong voice of the public opinion, circumscribed and bounded, by the hedge and ditches (which the true man leaps over unharmed) of conventionalities; honored and envied by forms, and ceremonies these poor slaves are entirely ignorant of the health bestowing, joy abounding, and life giving energy; with such this life is purely mechanical; a flower without perfume, a body without a soul, an Earth without a Heaven!

Fashionable Society! from it Good Lord deliver us! for once initiated into its mysteries, introduced into the guarded precincts of its Almoecks, adieu to those generous impulses, those noble resolves, which send the warm blood from heart to cheek and brow—Farewell to those phasen men's life, in which the trials of the missionary, the deeds of the hero, and the sufferings of martyrdom seem practicable, easy and easy; Farewell we say to all of these beautiful impulses which although but impulses, consequently transient, yet serve as relations to the inner man of God and Heaven!

Slaves of Fashion; aye, slaves indeed, wearing fenders of fife as galling, and as heavy as those of the galley slave—the difference in the metal, the one being gold the other iron, the strongest point perchance of difference!

Slaves! truly slaves, frequently working more laboriously than ever did slave of the cotton field, and sugar farm; and for less wages! for when did the poor silly slave of Fashion ever enjoy the healthful and pleasant appetite, and alumber, the common blessings of his cotton field brother?

Slaves in every truth, in word, deed, thought, and action, obliged in another, and in some cases to extinguish, all of the best impulses, the holiest feelings of the heart, if perchance they should dare to step off the path, to leave the platform belonging to their stern mistress Fashion, by following out the lovely and natural, and true promptings of the heart, woe to the poor Cain! a total loss of caste to the abused Pariah.

"Those whom the Gods love die young;" well let them so die we say, er one of our young and loved ones be snatched by the plague spot which finally marks its victim, as thus degraded being, a contorted slave of Fashion!

We would direct attention to the card of the various stage lines from this place, to Cincinnati and Lexington, Frankfort, and Paris, of which Mr. JAMES BARKLEY is the regularly appointed Agent. The travelling public will find these lines commodious and pleasant, and no pains will be spared by the agent, to accommodate the visitors of his house, and 'speed the parting guest,' to his proper destination.

Graham's Monthly. Terms 25 per annum. Published by Richard See & Co. 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

We have been permitted to make the following extract from the letter of a friend Kentucky whig, now in Indiana, to a friend in this town. It will probably interest our readers.

Indianapolis, Sept. 6th, 1854.

DEAR SIR,

You asked me for an account of the Nebraska meeting here to day. It affords me infinite pleasure to write about it, and I sincerely wish that every whig south of Mason & Dixon's line could have been present and heard the broad national and patriotic stand taken by every man who addressed the meeting. I have been inclined to Democracy for some time myself, but now I am not at all.

I am a democrat certain, from this out. The cases too plain. The democratic party of the north, desire the support of Parents, Guardians and preceptors with regard to the preservation of health and prolongation of life. Price 25 cents Address Dr. A. R. Kinkelin, corner of 3rd and Union street, Philadelphia.

We are still receiving the "Sacred Circle," a description of which was given our readers from the appearance of the first number.

This is a monthly issue, edited by Judge Edmunds, Dr. Dexter and O. G. Warren. It contains many substantial facts, designed to explain the regulation of the Natural and Spiritual Worlds, founded on spiritual Philosophy and zealous in the advance of Liberty, and the advancement of truth and sound principle.

He discussed the merits of the Nebraska bill in length and fully, and was about responded to by acclamations from the crowd. Gov. Farnsworth spoke of the indignity offered Douglass at Chicago; said there were at least 15,000 people there present, who were anxious to listen to him and were, until interrupted by a crowd of some 150 men who came into the meeting armed to the teeth and making all sorts of noise, producing such confusion that the meeting had to adjourn.

He stated that he was prepared to prove what he said, that the crowd was hired by the abolition press of Chicago, at an expense of near $3,000, to go there and do what they did. Douglass told them to their teeth that they were a lawless mob, and all such mobs were made up of cowards. This I heard him say privately. He has cause to be proud of to-day. The crowd here was immense, the state house yard was full, and when he closed his address, they gave him three hearty cheers. His speech will be published, it is now preparing for the press.

I met with an acquaintance of mine here, who formerly lived in Ky, and was there a whig. I told him, thinking he was still a whig, that I was done with the party, that I could no longer von agnisi men who vowed such good southern sentiments right in the teeth of abolitionists. He replied that he had quit the party some time since, and was forced to it by the fanatical abolition course of the whigs north. He told me that you could not hire a whig to get up on the stump and utter such sentiments as were boldly proclaimed here to day.

There is no danger of this union, if the whigs of the south, or the people of the south, will stand by such advocates as they had here to day.

The democrats are going to make a hard fight for the state, but I cannot form an opinion as to the result, they have a devolish long list of names to contend against.

FIRE INSURANCE.

The Hartford Protection Insurance Co., one of the oldest and said to be one of the most reliable insurance companies in the Union, has failed, utterly failed, and left its insurers, many of whom at a time of most need, without anything to show for their so called policies of protection! one of two things must be true of these insurance companies, judging from experience and long observation; either their rates for insuring, reduced by competition and the love of gain, are too low to enable them to conduct a living and successful business, or else there must be something in the business of insurance which dulls the moral sense; something which prompts men who, as individuals, would scorn to do a dishonest act, to defraud their fellow citizens out of hundreds of thousands of dollars without even the blush of shame mortalling their corporation bronzed cheeks. The more we see and learn of the swindling transactions of corporate bodies, the more earnest are we in endorsing the Democratic doctrine of "equal rights to all—special privileges to none."

WILL HEAR OF SOMETHING ADVANTAGEOUS.—If Mrs. Susannah Hedges, whose maiden name was Shepard, will communicate her whereabouts to the editor of the Kentucky State Flag, Paris, Ky., she will hear of something greatly to her advantage.

PERIODICALS.

We have had the pleasure of examining a little work, by Dr. A. R. Kinkelin, entitled "Nature's Guide" and find therein much to commend in the opinion of both sexes, all ages and classes.

Unlike many of his predecessors and contemporaries of the same style of publication, its language is pure and simple, alike suitable for the eyes of all and adapted to the comprehension of the plainest mind, giving warning which if heeded and a voice that if followed would not, aside many of the illus which man is made to inherit by folly and imprudence. There is nothing within the pages of this book that the most sensitive and delicate can object to. Its contents are especially designed as advice to the young, hints to the ignorant of the white only, who have perpetrated great crimes of late. Lawyers, doctors writers and even the clergy, have all helped to swell the list of offenders. The increase of crime has been startling—great criminals have appeared in the occupations and professions.

Some people think that the record of crime should not be published by respectable journals. But we are at a loss to understand why. The first business of the newspaper is to publish the news; the second duty is to comment appropriately on public matters. For the character of the news, the public & the nature of the acts recorded—are responsible. For the views of public questions which are taken—for the principles and measures advanced in their editorial columns—the journal is justly held accountable to the judgment of the community.

We consider that the public have a right to the news of the day, and that it is an implied condition of the subscription of the newspaper shall contain all the interesting news which it is practicable to give unless some good and valid reason exists against its publication.

It is argued that the publication of notorious crimes has an immoral tendency. The writers of the Bible—of the Old Testament and of the New—seem to have thought differently. We respectfully recommend to such persons as are very anxious about the publication of crimes by newspapers a more careful and thorough study of the Scriptures.

We challenge the production from our columns of a more graphic description—either original or selected—of the details of awful crimes than can be found in the Bible.

By the publication of the circumstances attending the perpetration of great crimes, people are enabled more effectually to guard against their repetition. Take, for instance, the recent case of a most revolting outrage committed upon a young woman in Philadelphia, by a dentist, while she was under the influence of chloroform. The publication of this puts other women on their guard against similar dangers.

What husband or father would wish his wife or daughter to enter a forest filled with vicious wild beasts—or a pathway beset with poisonous serpents—in utter unconsciousness of her danger? And yet, who would not rather—than the object of his love should be toro to, pish, costly booses or killed by the bite of a rattle-snake, than that she should fall a victim to such an outrage as that suffered by the young woman referred to—an offence first brought to the notice of the authorities by the complaint of the man to whom she was betrothed?

Again, the publication of crimes is important to call attention to the necessity of more general and thorough moral and religious education.

We believe that a false impression of the true condition of the world, and the consequent necessities of the times, may be easily produced by omitting the publication of important events, as by the publication of actual falsehoods.

There is an imperious necessity made apparent by the criminal record of the last few months for greater safeguards around human life and the persons of females.

Never that every woman in the country should carry an Indian arrow in her bosom, for her protection, than that the revolting offences which have so often shocked the public recently, should continue of such frequent occurrence. With the adoption of other precautions which are feasible, no such practice is likely to become necessary. But the liability to these horrible outrages should be avoided in some way, and the first step toward protection from danger is to make the danger known.

MANANMOES.—We learned a day or two since, that a gentleman living near St. Louis, had been shot in the head by a negro, and left for dead.

—The Travelling public will find on due trial and strict examination that they can be accommodated in Lexington, at the former's Hotel, kept by our old friend Megowan, quite as comfortably and luxuriously as at the other hotels at a more reasonable rate of charges. We have tried them all, and speak from experience, cordially recommend the house to the patronage of our friends in Scott county and the travelling public.

—The Hartford Protection Insurance Co., one of the oldest and said to be one of the most reliable insurance companies in the Union, has failed, utterly failed, and left its insurers, many of whom at a time of most need, without anything to show for their so called policies of protection! one of two things must be true of these insurance companies, judging from experience and long observation; either their rates for insuring, reduced by competition and the love of gain, are too low to enable them to conduct a living and successful business, or else there must be something in the business of insurance which dulls the moral sense; something which prompts men who, as individuals, would scorn to do a dishonest act, to defraud their fellow citizens out of hundreds of thousands of dollars without even the blush of shame mortalling their corporation bronzed cheeks. SCOTT FARM! FOR SALE.

WISHING to remove to the State of Missouri, I offer at public sale the farm on which I now reside, on Monday, the 25th day of September, containing about 190 acres of first rate land, lying on the waters of Dry Run, Scott County Kentucky, about four miles North of Georgetown, and about one quarter of a mile east of the Turnpike leading from Georgetown to Covington.

Said farm is in a very fair state of cultivation, with a very good comfortable dwelling, and all necessary out-buildings. It has on it (very convenient to the house,) one of the best springs in the country; it has never been so low, at any time that there has not been a sufficient supply of running water for more than 500 head of stock. I also wish to sell at the same time and place, 20 head of Horses;

about 40 head of Cattle; of which are about 20 head of first rate Milch Cows;

about 100 head of Sheep;

Fatty or Fluffy head of Hogs, six standing crop, &c.

About 25 two year old Mules, in good order, and 14 Cots.

I also wish to sell 110 ACRES of good land, lying some half mile north of this. This tract has no improvement except that the land is nearly all cleared and in cultivation. I will sell the two tract together or separately to purchasers.

Terms will be easy, and made known on day of sale; those wishing to purchase are invited to call and examine the premises for the test that children take them as readily as they eat candies and sweetmeats. They are superior to any Vermifuge or other worm medicine in use. Price 25 cents per box.

LIVERY STABLE.

CHANGED HANDS.

HAVING purchased and refitted the stable formerly kept by O. O. West, and entrusted to J. T. Pratt's Hotel, I would respectfully inform my friends and the public in general that I am prepared to supply them with new Buggies and nice Horses; also, prepared for brassing and nicking horses, and can stall from Fifty to Sixty horses on public days.

MR. JOHN H. WEEKS will do the nicking for me; and the best attention will be paid to stock entrusted to my care. I ask a liberal share of custom from the county and town.

If you want good feed for man and beast call at the Franklin Hotel, where the General will feed the men, and Micks, the omnibus.

READ THIS—MEDICINE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—DR. HALL continues to be consulted at his Office, No. 57, East Third street, on all diseases of a.

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE. By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. H. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he fits introduced them failed to cure the most glaring cases of.

GONORRHEA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impulsive blood, impotence, Scrofula, Gonorrhoea, Ulcers, pains and distresses in the regions of Proctoscopy, Inflammation of Badder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrid symptoms attending this class of diseases, are made to become as harmless as the simplest nilling of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Dr. H. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for either business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth are, weakness of the back and limbs, dullness of the head, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, dispensis, nervousness, derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of consumption, &c. The fatal effects on the mind are most to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, evasions of society, and social distrust, timidity, &c. are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage consult a physician of experience and skill and be at once restored to health and happiness.

AGUE AND FEVER cured in 24 hours, warranted.

All letters addressed to Dr. L. Hall, box 1364, Cincinnati, O. Medicines sent to any address safely packed and secured from observation.

Office at No. 67, East Third street, between Sycamore and Broadway, Cincinnati.
